

Retenda site improvements

- 1) Change tagline to: “Retention is the profitability engine for your DTC ecommerce brand”
- 2) Change sub heading to: “At Retenda, we focus on retention, which is your only way to profitability. We transform leaky funnels into structured revenue-producing systems by combining strategy, creative and deliverability”
- 3) $10M + generated for clients (instead of 98% avg deliverability)
- 4) 50+ DTC brands trust us with their retention marketing (instead of 24/7 support)

1. The New Hero: The "Profit Protection" Angle

Headline: Scale your Backend. Stop overpaying for Meta. Sub-headline: With Meta CPAs soaring post-iOS 14, first-order profit is a myth. Retenda transforms your "one-and-done" buyers into high-LTV loyalists, ensuring your ad spend actually builds a brand—not just a Zuck donation.

The Updated Bottom Accolades

These sit right under your CTA buttons:

- $10M+ Generated (Revenue focus)
- 45% Avg. Repeat Purchase Rate (The "Retention" proof)
- 2.5x Increase in LTV (The "iOS-killer" stat)

2. New Section: "The Invisible Leak"

This section explains exactly why their current marketing spend is failing.

The iOS 14.5 Tax is Real Since the tracking updates, Meta's algorithm is working harder for fewer results. If you are paying $40 to acquire a customer who only spends $45 once, you are losing money after COGS and shipping.

Don't Fill a Leaky Bucket Most brands try to fix revenue drops by increasing top-of-funnel spend. That's a death spiral. We plug the "Email Revenue Leak" and maximize the value of every single click you've already paid for.

3. The Challenge Section: "The DTC Growth Trap"

Revamping your existing cards to be more aggressive:

The Acquisition Trap

Rising Meta CPAs

Scaling is impossible when creative fatigue hits and CPAs rise. You're outbidding yourself for the same traffic.

Export to Sheets

The Data Black Box

Zero Attribution

iOS updates made tracking a "black box." If you don't own your data via Email/SMS, you're flying blind.

The Profit Drain

The "One-Time" Buyer

70% of DTC shoppers never return. Without a retention engine, you are leaving 6-7 figures on the table every year.

4. The "Retenda Method" (How we fix it)

- Audit the Leak: We identify where customers are dropping off in your lifecycle.
- Deploy the Engine: We build automated flows that trigger based on behavior, not just "time passed."
- Own the Relationship: We move your revenue off Meta's rented land and onto your owned channels (Email/SMS).

A new section after “what we do” section:

The Science of the Sell-Out: Multiple 6-Figure “Drop Days”

Ever wonder how brands like Supreme, Nike, and Stanley sell out their entire stock in minutes?

It’s not luck. It’s a calculated, psychological process. Most brands just "send a blast" when they have new stock. We engineer events.

We have successfully launched multiple 6-figure days for our clients, clearing out months of inventory in a matter of hours. This isn't just about sending an email; it's about our "Secret Hype-Building Sauce"—a precise sequence of scarcity, anticipation, and multi-channel "sieges" that force customers to keep their credit cards ready.

It’s not for everyone.

Generating this level of hype requires every part of your brand to be in the right place—from your creative to your lifecycle structure. If even one gear is off, the engine stalls.

We have a proprietary 6 phase drop execution framework. Wanna know if we can help create this kind of hype for you? [See our 6 phase framework]

The Drop Protocol

Most brands launch products. We create cultural moments. This is the exact framework I used to scale my own brand and sell out inventory in hours. It is a precise, high-tension method designed to turn interest into frenzy.

The Stages

1. Product Curation
2. Strategic Teasing
3. The Reveal
4. Hype Generation
5. Early Access
